A Wonderful Healing Influence in Kidney Troubles.
A year and a half ago I was taken with a severe attack of kidney trouble that pained me to such an extent that mor phine had to be given me. Was attend ed to by a doctor who pronounced it as stone in the bladder and prescribed Lithia Water. I took Lithia Water and Tablets for some time and received no relief from them. I stopped taking medicines for some time, later having some Swamp-Root in the house I decid ed to try it and felt much relieved.
While taking the second bottle commen ced to pass gravel in urine until I had passed in all at least a half dozen or more and have not suffered the slightest since and in all have taken one bottle and a half and feel very grateful to Swamp
-Root.
Yours very truly,
H. W. SPINKS,
H. Camp Hill, Ala.
Personally appeared before me this 16th day of August, 1909, H. W. Spinks, who subscribed the above statement and made oath that the same is true in sub stance and in fact.

wonderfully relieving. Laid often, he rubs Sloan's on his face and that is the last of it."--Mrs. V. J. Brown,

"I have used Sloan's Liniment for family use for years and would not be without
it. We have raised a family of ten children and have used it for croup and all lung can't be beat. My wife sprained her ankle last summer and it was in bad shape, Sloan's Liniment applied enabled her to be as good as over in a week. I have used it several times for sprains and rheumatism."--John Newcomb, R. R. No. 2, Keokuk, Iowa.

COLDS

An up-to-date remedy for colds. That is what Peruna is. In successful use over 50 years.

Colds are caught in many ways: Illy ventilated rooms; rooms that have direct draughts; crowded rooms; damp houses; stuffy school rooms; offices illy heated.

A dose of Peruna at the right time, at the first symptom of cold, before the bones begin to ache, before the sore throat manifests itself, or the cough, or the discharge from the nose, just a dose or two of Peruna before these symptoms begin is generally sufficient. But after the cold is once established with the above symptoms prominent, a bottle of Peruna, or maybe two, will be necessary.

"For several years I have been troubled with colds at each change of season. I took Peruna and have not been troubled with the slightest cold this entire season." Mr. Harry Fisher, 1223 Mosher St., Baltimore, Md.

"I feel a cold coming on I take a little Peruna, and it does me good." Mr. Charles S. Many, 12 Water St., Oseining, N. Y.

How to Freshen Wire Screens.

Select a day when there is a good brisk wind blowing, and if a north wind, clean your south screens a west wind your east screens. Give a good draft through your room and from the inside brush your screens briskly with any kind of a clean brush that will fit into the corners and you will be pleased to see clouds of dust wafted away with the strong draft. When well brushed take a clean cloth and wipe over the frames and wire and your screens will be as clean and fresh as when you just put them in.

KILLING BUGS ON BIDDY.

Killing bugs on Biddy is a pestiferous proposition, one that many don't indulge in and one that many others don't indulge in enough to qualify as experts.

Some get round the bughouse job by sprinkling louse powder on the hen while in the nest, placing bug killer, moth balls, tobacco, sulphur, slaked lime, in the nest or greasing the hen with lard with the idea that she will grease the chicks.

But why take lazy halfway measures with these crawlers that are so destructive, breed so fast, have so many hiding places in the feathers and resist so many so called insecticides? The most effective method is to treat each fowl individually, to apply the louse powder by hand.

Just take your hen by the hocks so she can't jerk and break a leg and hold her head down over a newspaper, and her feathers will fall open. Start with the tuft, the louse incubator; get the powder down to the skin; work it in around the roots of the tail between body and thighs, on thighs, back, cape, hackle, head, throat, wing quills; work it down to skin all over the fowl, then shake your hen gently over paper and release her quietly lest she fly around and shake off the powder. We find the louse machine next in effectiveness and recommend it for big flocks.

It is easily made, dusts five or six hens at once, does quick work and does not injure fowls. It is simply a

TREES ADD MUCH TO CITY'S BEAUTY

Ceaseless, Untiring, Effective Agents of Purification.

PROMOTE GREAT WEALTH.

Should Be Planted in Uniform Rows and Cared For by Efficient Men—Aid to Hygiene, Beauty, Education and Economy.

Growing interest in tree planting, as shown by the general observance of Arbor day throughout America, gives promise of systematic planting of trees along cities' streets. It was not so many years ago that many American cities were noted for their attractive shade trees, but in most instances these trees have been killed by the lack of care or by street paving.

Many of our cities now have a park commission. All trees are under its care, their planting, maintenance and removal included. This is important, as trees can be planted on every residential block, and hence tree planting on a systematic basis is the most persuasive of all improvements. The same kind of a tree should be planted throughout a block and for several blocks in succession. Systematic tree planting is considered by every far sighted, modern municipality on account of considerations of hygiene, beauty, education and economy.

Good trees for street planting are the Oriental pine, pin oak, gingko and Norway maple. The plane will thrive where few other trees grow, and it may be pruned into wide or narrow streets. The other trees require more moisture and larger open spaces about them, but have darker green foliage and cause less litter on the pavement,

CHAS. H. HOWARD CO.

There is no kind of business more dependent upon the public and usefulness than a first-class and reliable drug store, and as such we take pleasure in calling attention to the Chas. H. Howard Co.'s establishment popularly known as the "Rexall" store. This business was established twenty years ago in 1895 by F. A. Shurtleff, - Mr. Howard associated himself with Mr. Shurtleff in 1898, and in 1909 at the death of Mr. Shurtleff the firm name was changed to the Chas. H. Howard Co., and as such the business has been carried on ever since. The store is a large one and is arranged with a view to conducting the business to the best advantage and a reliable stock of pure drugs and medicines, patent and proprietary remedies is carried, including a full line of the famous "Rexall" remedies—one for every ailment and every one guaranteed to give satisfaction or your money back—bottle articles, articles for the sick room, books, confectionery, cigars, etc. Mr. Howard, who is a graduate of Bowdoin College and also of the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy, pays particular attention to the prescription department and exercises the utmost vigilance in the compounding of physicians' prescriptions and family recipes, while the charges made are as low as first quality drugs will allow. Of Mr. Howard personally little need be said as he is too well known to the people of this section. Suffice it to say he has always manifested a public spirited disposition, is courteous and obliging and his reliability has never been questioned. We might also add that he has held the office of Corporation Treasurer and filled said position with credit to himself and satisfaction to all law abiding citizens.

J. PIERCE.

The jewelry establishment conducted by Mr. J. Pierce at South Paris is from his experience and practical knowledge of the business, one of the most reliable places of its kind in this part of Oxford County and is therefore entitled to high mention. It is not every day that one who claims to be a watchmaker in this line enjoys a reputation of doing his work promptly and thoroughly. His store is attractively arranged and a carefully selected stock is carried, consisting of gold and silver watches, clocks and jewelry articles, souvenirs, novelties, precious stones including a nice line of "Maine Tourmalines," etc. These goods have all been bought from reliable wholesalers and jobbers, are guaranteed to be as represented and are sold at the most reasonable prices. Optical work is also an important branch of Mr. Pierce's business, he being a registered optometrist, and an expert in his line. Mr. Pierce has been catering to the wants of the public of South Paris and vicinity in the jewelry line forty years. He is a man in whose representations every confidence can be placed and both as a business man and citizen has the best interests of the community at heart.

MRS. L. C. SMILEY.

The popularity of the millinery establishment conducted by Mrs. L. C. Smiley is not difficult to account for, as every one who has patronized the business has been enjoying the fullest confidence of the female portion of the community. Her store is always neatly and tastefully arranged and is thoroughly stocked with the latest creations in millinery including both trimmed and untrimmed hats and bonnets, plumes, feathers, flowers, chiffons, ribbons, laces and everything that comes under the head of millinery and fancy goods. Mrs. Smiley is always prepared to furnish the latest novelties of the season and notwithstanding the high standard of goods and excellence taste displayed, her prices are within the reach of all. She has already been preparing for her spring opening, the date of which will be announced later, and this year will have some real novelties to show which will have to be seen to be appreciated. An invitation is extended to all ladies to attend the opening whether they intend to purchase anything or not.

SAVOY THEATRE.

Although there have been many wonderful inventions introduced to the American people within the last quarter of a century, we know of nothing that has proven more instructive and entertaining than motion pictures. For not only does the picture present life-like reproductions of interesting things of every day life, but of historic interest. Pictures depicting comedy, tragedy, and history quiver the many shows which are conducted in the cities and smaller towns of the United States, and South Paris is now fully up to the standard maintained by most of these institutions. For this the people of South Paris are indebted to the enterprise of Mr. H. N. Bragdon. Mr. Bragdon has had control of the Savoy Theatre for the past two years and is giving the people of South Paris and vicinity the best class of pictures obtainable. The Savoy is a cozy, comfortable house, has a seating capacity of 400 and everything about the place is kept clean and strictly sanitary. The latest improved picture machine is in use at the Savoy and changes of program are made every day, from six to ten reels of high class photo-plays making up the program and all for the small sum of five and ten cents. Mr. Bragdon personally looks after the interests of his patrons and spares neither trouble nor expense to give them the best that can be secured. In addition to the above, roller skating is indulged in at the Savoy every Tuesday and Saturday nights and skating enthusiasts will be glad to learn that a specially constructed skating floor has just been laid and a new organ will be installed and these will doubtless be greatly enjoyed. If you are feeling blue or out of sorts go to the Savoy Theatre. You will be pleased with what you see and hear. Mr. Bragdon, prior to embarking in the motion picture business, devoted his efforts to steamboating and for 15 years was captain of an ocean going tug boat, and holds a steamboat license from Eastport, Maine, to Cape Hatteras.

F. B. FOGG.

Probably in no line of manufacture have so many advances been made in recent years than in the construction of the now practically perfect automobile. No longer are they ungainly and unreliable things, the automobile of today is not only strong, swift and graceful in appearance but has become an actual necessity in the business world. In this connection a few words concerning F. B. Fogg of South Paris should prove of interest here. Mr. Fogg has been identified with the automobile business here for the past nine years and is the exclusive agent for Oxford County for the celebrated "Chevrolet" and "Hudson" cars, without question two of the best cars offered the public today at the prices asked. Not only have they the style and appearance but have been thoroughly tried under all conditions and have never been found wanting. The closest investigation is invited and Mr. Fogg is always ready to demonstrate the "Chevrolet" and "Hudson" cars to prospective purchasers. Every part will stand the most rigid investigation and better value for the money cannot be found in any car. Gasoline and auto supplies are also handled and Fogg's Garage is also the authorized "service station" for "Hudson" cars. Mr. Fogg is a business man of ability and enterprise and the future of his past his reputation for liberal dealings will be maintained.

ERNEST P. CROCKETT.

People have become so accustomed to having an abundant supply of plants and flowers the year round that they seldom stop to consider the means by which this most desirable result is brought about. But the subject is an interesting one and a visit to Ernest P. Crockett's Greenhouse will well repay every thinking person. There is a vast amount of labor involved in the raising of plants and flowers for the market and a constant care and watchfulness which, we believe, has no parallel in any other line of business. Considering the difficulties met with it is surprising that flowering plants can be sold so cheaply. Mr. Crockett has been a resident of South Paris all his life and established himself in the florist business five years ago. His greenhouse is a large one covered by 3000 square feet of glass and is equipped with hot water heat and a necessary facilities, and here is raised all kinds of bed and potted plants, palms, ferns and cut flowers of all kinds with a specialty of carnations, etc. Funeral and floral designs are made to order at short notice and at reasonable prices and are delivered promptly. Mr. Crockett is a practical florist himself and gives the business his personal attention. He is a business man of push and enterprise and is held in high regard by all who know him.

W. B. & L. L. RUSSELL.

The enterprise conducted under the firm name of W. B. & L. L. Russell occupies a prominent position among the grain and feed houses of this part of Oxford County and is so thoroughly equipped in every respect as to be prepared to meet the closest competition, both as regards promptness and accuracy with which orders can be filled and prices quoted on large or small lots. The mill is a large one, is equipped with power and improved machinery for the grinding of grain; has a capacity of 250 bushels, and an extensive stock is carried consisting of all kinds of flour, corn, oats, meal, shorts, middlings, bran, baled hay and straw and in fact everything one would expect to find in a first-class establishment of the kind. Only the best grades of the commodities mentioned are handled and an extensive stock is carried. Messrs. W. B. & L. L. Russell succeeded the business formerly conducted by A. E. Shurtleff about three years ago. They are wide awake business men and as citizens have ever been ready to assist in any proposition calculated for the upbuilding of this section.

WEST PARIS.

Death of Frederick Robie Penley. Little Frederick Robie Penley died about half past ten last Friday night, aged seven last October 26th. He began to not feel well early last fall and only went to school two or three weeks at the beginning of the fall term. Several physicians were consulted and he was taken to a specialist in Portland, but for all that human aid could do, he continued to decline. He was confined to the house about two weeks and had a trained nurse during the last week.

He was a bright, smart little fellow in the third grade at school and attended the Universalist Sunday school. His parents, Frederick R. and Mabel Young Penley are deeply grieved with the loss of their second son, although they have three boys left. The funeral was held Monday at 2 p. m., at the Universalist church, with Rev. D. A. Ball officiating. The primary school, accompanied by their teacher, Miss Parker, attended in body and the Sunday School Class, eight or nine small children, very sweetly sang a little song, "We are Happy Children, Going to the Land of Beauty, Singing as We Go."

Four school boys, Carl Emery, Herbert Hill, Frank Packard and Howard Emery, were pall bearers. The little white casket was surrounded by beautiful flowers and was as follows:

Harp—Uncles and aunts.
Pillow, "Frederick's" parents.
Pillow, "Schoolmates"—Primary scholars and their teacher, Miss Parker.
Basket—His grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Penley.

Fifteen pinks—Intermediate scholars and their teacher, Miss Parker.

Prize Speaking Contest.

The Prize Speaking Contest of the High school last Friday night, program of which was given last week, more than met the expectations of the people. The stage was tastefully decorated with green and white crepe paper festooned from the sides to the center top fastened with a large green and white paper bow. Along the edge of the footlights, was fastened a wreath of evergreen boughs. A small table covered with green and white cloth at the left, on which the prizes lay.

Two rows of elevated seats were in the rear where sat the school chorists and in front of them was a row of parlor chairs decorated with green and white bows and other drapings reserved for the contestants and their teachers, Miss Wall.

The original plan was for ten to take part in the contest and who were chosen from a test taken before three impartial judges selected from outside, by the teacher, at the close of the fall term, but one, Laura Emery, had dropped out, having to leave school altogether a few weeks ago on account of her health. At eight o'clock the nine contestants whose names were given last week, to piano music, were ushered in by Herbert Hill, who carried a green and white decorated baton, marched down the middle aisle to the front where they divided and half went up the stairs on either side which led to their seats on the stage, amid great applause.

Each recital was applauded, both before and after. The school chorists were ably conducted by the school music teacher, Miss Brown, who also played the opening march. The school quartette who sang were Lillian Wheeler, Madeline Peabody, Edith Stevens and Lillian Day. The intermediate room chorists consisted of twenty or more small children, who sat down in front and marched up for their song. Miss Brown has done excellent work as these part-songs and choruses gave evidence.

Edith Gardner played a piano solo while the judges retired to the anti-room to compare points and bring the best of their judgment as to the prize winners. The contest was so close that it took them some time to come to a decision. Mr. Carver, principal of the South Paris High school, who came in the place of Supt. Jones who was unable to come, came to the platform to award the prizes and after a few words of congratulations to the speakers, their teachers and the school teacher, Mrs. J. F. Wood, he gave a silver cup to Louie Briggs for the boys, and the same to Mildred Conant for the girls, and a book of Longfellow's poems to Edith Stevens as a special prize, of both boys and girls. He also explained that there was a very small percentage of difference between the winners and those who came next, and best of all was the kindness of spirit shown among the class afterwards in the way they congratulated their fellow winners.

Mrs. Alta Rankin and Miss Towle, also teachers from the South Paris High school, were the other two judges.
